New England Summer Resort Manual

THIS book is intended, so far as such a publication can, to help solve the vexed problem of where the summer vacation is to be spent. We know, of course, that no verbal description can do justice to the many and varied charms of our old New England as a summer resort. Here is country and seashore, pine woods, mountains, rocks and sand; in fact from the Canadian line of Maine, New Hampshire or Vermont to the end of Cape Cod, there is scarcely a foot of ground that has not some peculiar attractions for the summer tourists and we hope that this book may be of interest to you, not only, in possibly aiding your judgment in the selection of a summer home, but also in giving you some little idea of the natural beauties of this part of our country.

Please bear in mind that our office in Boston is directly in the centre of the city, near the shopping district and across the street from the Park Street Station of the Subway, practically the terminus of the majority of the transportation lines of the city.

We have here photographs and booklets of nearly all the places mentioned in the Manual and if you are undecided and want more information, we shall consider it a kindness on your part if you will let us know it. You will always find stationary and other conveniences here and we are only too glad to be of service to you in any way.

Inquiries will be answered promptly and are solicited.

Finally, as our system is entirely new and we are anxious that our subscribers and advertisers should know that you have seen their names in our Manual, may we not ask you, if you write them or go to their places to mention that fact. It will certainly be of great benefit to us and no trouble to you.

The Chapel Burying Ground. Next to King's Chapel on Tremont Street, contains the graves of Gov. Winthrop, John Cotton and other well-known pre-revolutionary persons.

The "Old Corner" Book Store. Corner of School and Washington Streets, is supposed to be the oldest brick building in Boston. It bears the date of 1712.

Old State House. At the head of State Street, was built in 1748, and contains a very interesting collection of historical articles, admission to which is free.

Faneuil Hall. The original building was completed in 1742, but the whole interior was destroyed by fire in 1763, and in order to raise money to restore the building the state authorized a lottery. The new building was dedicated in 1763 with a speech by James Otis. During the winter of 1775-76 the British officers made the hall into a theatre where performances were given devoted chiefly to ridiculing the patriots. Among the attractions of the "Cradle of Liberty" is a superb collection of portraits of early governors and also many other articles of historical interest. The hall is open to the public without charge.

Copps Hill Burying Ground. The second burial place in the city. The Hutchinsons, Mathers and other well-known Bostonians lie buried here.

The Old Granary Burial Ground. Tremont Street, opposite Bromfield. Dates back to 1660. The Faneuils, John Hancock, Samuel Adams are buried here, beside a host of other well-known men.

Nantucket, Mass.

"Quaint" Nantucket has become almost a proverb, and today the summer visitor will find here practically the same customs and conditions that prevailed fifty years ago. The town crier still makes his rounds; the entire population still hurries to the wharf on the arrival of the steamer; the same old weather beaten houses with their railed roof platforms, where anxious eyes watched for the return of the whalers half a century ago, still stand a mute reminder of a glorious past. No person who has ever spent a summer here but has a soft spot in his heart for the place, and the elegant estates and fine hotels on the "Cliff" show in what estimation the island is held by those who have been here often enough to allow its charms full time to work.

The records of the weather bureau since its establishment, show the highest temperature on the island to have been 87° , and if in a summer the thermometer reaches 84° , the natives refer for several years to the "hot" day.

It is the most healthful, most restful, most delightful place on the face of the earth, and is reached by boat from either New Bedford or Woods Hole after a sail on a pleasant day to be always remembered.

Sea Cliff Inn. Mrs. C. W. Pettee, Prop. The leading Hotel of the island, occupies the finest possible situation; standing as it does on the famous "Cliff" and overlooking both the beautiful waters of the harbor and ocean and the broad sweeps of the green moors. Above all the fine table and perfect appointments attract the most cultivated and refined people from all over the United States. Accommodations for 200. Rates, double rooms, $31 to $40, single rooms, $18 to $21 per week. Transients $3 per day.

The Nantucket. Mrs. W. S. Swain, Prop. This Hotel, located on a narrow point of land completely surrounded on three sides by water, offers an ideal situation for those who wish to be as near the ocean as possible. It is at the entrance to the harbor and combines with a charming location, accessibility with everything and at the same time perfect quiet. Most beautiful ocean views. Rates are from $16 to $35 for double rooms, $10 to $17.50 for single rooms, and for transients $2.50 $3 50 per day. Accommodations for 200. See advertisement on page 68.

The Point Breeze. Bracey Curtis, Prop. One of the modern Hotels of the island, is finely located on an elevation commanding extensive views of the ocean and harbor. The appointments are of the best and the service and sanitary appliances cannot be surpassed. There are fine golf links near at hand and both surf and still water bathing. Rates from $12 to $24 and accommodations for 200.

Ocean House. W. D. Carpenter, Manager. Situated on high ground, built of brick in the most substantial manner. This house is the nearest to the steamboat wharf, post office and the business streets, has broad piazza and shade trees in front. The sanitary arrangements are perfect. The entire plumbing has been removed and replaced this season by new, up-to-date improvements. Many other alterations have been made which with the addition of new carpets, draperies, silver, linen, etc., cannot fail to make this favorite house more popular than ever. See advertisement on page 69.

The Springfield. W. H. Gooch, Prop. Centrally located within a few minutes walk of the post office, steamboat landing and the bathing beach. This Hotel and its three Annexes have earned a well deserved reputation. It is lighted by both gas and electricity and has all modern improvements, with running water on every floor. Open for guests all the year and with steam heat in every room. Rates from $2.50 to $3.00 for transients, and from $12 upwards per week. See advertisement on page 69.

The "Franklin" and "Oneonta" Cottages. Mrs. C. W. Smith. These cottages are charmingly situated on the "Cliff" and command a magnificent view of the ocean. They are very near the bathing beach. Fitted with every modern convenience, large bath room, good beds, cheerful rooms, they are attractive to those who prefer the privacy and quiet of a smaller house to a large hotel. Rates from $14 to $18 for single rooms, $22 to $27 for double. Accommodations for 25.

Chatham, Mass. 91 miles from Boston. Excursion rate $4. Chatham is at the extreme south easterly end of Cape Cod, and lying within the tempering influences of the Gulf Stream, the water affords the most delightful surf or still water bathing on the Cape, and there is every opportunity for boating, fishing, sailing, and in fall, shooting.

Hawes House. Z. W. Hawes. Open from June 15th to October 1st. Accommodations for 35. Terms from $8 to $10 a week. Special family rates. Pure water, fresh milk and eggs, house is located on main street about 100 feet from water, in full view of Atlantic Ocean. Still water and surf bathing. Good wheeling, excellent library. A picture of the house sent on request. 8 years experience. References will be given if desired. One mile from station. Conveyance, barge.

Belchertown, Mass. 88 miles from Boston. This picturesque Massachusetts town lies among the delightful Hampshire hills on the extreme east of the Holyoke mountain range. The quiet beauty pure and invigorating air, the beautiful drives and charming scenery have made the town noted as a summer place, and a desirable and refined class of people are attracted here each season.

The Park View. Hampshire Hill, Belchertown. Elevation 800 feet. Table, beds and sanitary arrangements first class with absolutely pure water. Large airy rooms, 200 feet of piazza, beautiful Lake, boats, fishing, golf links, tennis, dance hall, free tally-ho rides, fine livery. Accommodates 75 guests. Rates $6 to $10 per week. L. W. Dillon, Prop. See advertisement on page 69.

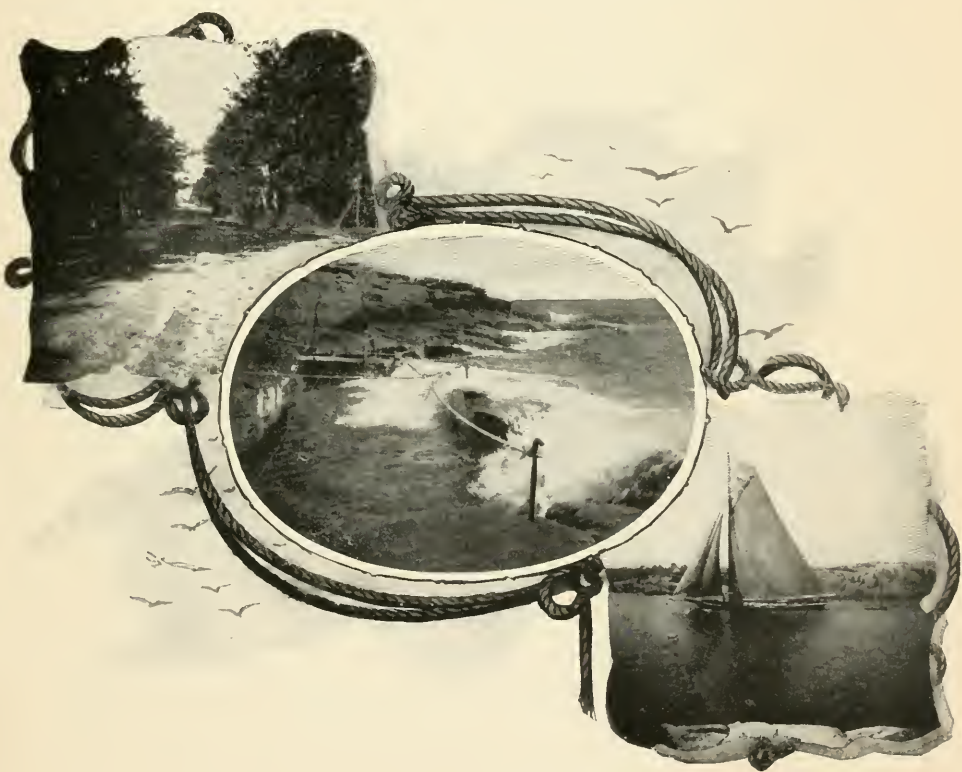

Cape Ann

Who that has spent a season here has ever forgotten the rock bound shores of Cape Ann ; its ever changing combination of sky and ocean and its cool winds.

Discovered by Thorwald, the viking, who is described by the old sagas as enraptured with the place, the passing years have only served to intensify its charms until, at the present time, its rocks and sands are dotted over with magnificent private estates and hotels second to none on the Atlantic coast.

To one who loves old ocean at its grandest, an easterly storm is a revelation, while the soft south-west winds of the summer, always cool, because always off the water, give a deep shimmering blue to the ocean's surface alike enjoyable to the eye and the senses.

It fulfils every necessity to either the man who wishes to keep in touch with his business, or to one who needs only rest. The extreme point is only one hour from Boston by frequent express trains, and Gloucester also with its many diverging lines of rail and trolley lines, is reached in less than two hours by the fine boats of the Boston and Gloucester S. S. Co., after the most beautiful trip, from a scenic stand point, on the Atlantic coast.

We have booklets of all the houses mentioned below and should be glad to send them on request.

Gloucester. The Surfside. F. H. Sawyer. Location is one of the finest on the north shore and the only hotel located directly on a sand beach. Rates are from $12 to $25 per week. Transient guests from $2.50 to $4 per day. The hotel is only ten minutes from the Gloucester station of the B. & M., and accommodates 150 guests.

East Gloucester. The Harbor View, Eastern Point. W. F. Osborne. Hotel is built on the rocks directly overlooking the water with a most beautiful view. The piazzas are broad and command a breeze and fine outlook from every inch. All conveniences including a long distance telephone, are in the house and it is within three minutes' walk of a line of electric cars running on 15 minutes' headway. Terms from $9 to $15 per week.

Bass Rocks, Gloucester. The Thorwald. Mrs. Eli Jackman. The location cannot be surpassed on the Atlantic coast. On a hill with the ocean stretching away on three sides, bathing beach in front, and where if desired, advantage can be taken of bathing houses on wheels, ensuring the greatest privacy. This is the only place in this country where the English custom is provided. Terms from $10 to $20 per week. A better idea of location and view than can be given by words, is shown by advertisement on page 70.

Rockport. The Round View Inn. Mrs. D. A. Carter. A magnificent mansion house on the highest ground in Rockport, near bathing beach and only three minutes from station. The view from every chamber is grand and from a crow's nest on top of the house, one can see for miles in every direction. The house is well named. Table is supplied from the owner's garden and is equal to that of the more expensive hotels. Mrs. Carter's desire is to have every guest well pleased. Terms from $9 to $12 per week and references are required.

Pigeon Cove. The Pigeon Cove House. F. H. Pratt. Hotel located within 200 yards of the ocean and has earned a well deserved reputation for its hospitality. Surrounded by beautiful and well kept lawns, one has here a happy and pleasing variety of ocean, grass and woods, combined with opportunities for golf, croquet, bowling and billiards. Open fire-places and steam heat. Rates are from $15 to $25 per week, and for transient guests from $3 to $4 per day. For an idea as to the hotel and the rocks near by, we refer to the advertisement on page 71.

Pigeon Cove. The Linwood. F. H. Pratt. This hotel is managed by the proprietor of the Pigeon Cove House, and although a smaller house, it has been very successful. Situated on the rocks directly upon the ocean, it appeals with peculiar force to those wishing to get as near salt water as possible. Rates from $12.00 per week upwards.

Nahant, Mass. Hotel Tudor. William Catto, Prop. The largest Hotel in Nahant. Only 10 miles from Boston, and yet so far out into the sea that the wind whatever its direction, comes always off the water. Close by the Steamboat, Landing, with frequent boats to and from Boston. The cuisine and service of the Tudor are of the best, and the house contains all modern sanitary appliances. Rates from $4 to $5 a day. Booklet and all information sent on request. See advertisement on page 69.

Nahant, Mass. The Rockledge. L. E. Parent, Prop. Accommodations for 50. Single rooms $10 to $20 a week. Double rooms $18 to $30 a week. Large modern house on the ocean.

Nahant, Mass. The Whitney Homestead. Accommodations for 20. Rates $10 to $15 a week. Beautiful old house in a most charming location.

Andover, Mass. 23 miles from Boston. Single fare 25 cents. Special rates for trip and season tickets. The township of Andover was incorporated in 1646 and the town combines many interesting historical features, with most beautiful drives and sightly locations. It is the seat of Philips Academy, founded in 1778, Andover Theological Seminary, founded 1810, and Abbott Academy, founded 1829.

Private House, 12 School Street. Mrs. Wm. Marland, Prop. A limited number of adults can be accommodated from July 1st to Sept. 10th. Terms $8 to $10 a week. Modern sanitary conveniences with two bath rooms. Located between Philips and Abbott Academy. Good home table with plenty of fresh milk, cream, eggs and fruit. Good livery near by, also long distance telephone in house. Two minutes from golf links. A short distance from electric line connecting with the North Shore. References exchanged.

Onset, Mass. Beautifully located at the head of Buzzard's Bay. Excursion fare from Boston $2.15.

The Glen Echo. M. L. Boles, Prop. Accommodations for 30. Rates $10 to $16 per week. Large new house in good location.

Sudbury, Mass. 20 miles from Boston. Special monthly tickets.

Sudbury Centre, Mass. The homestead. A. E. Hosmer. A very comfortable country house, with large rooms and shade. A mile and a quarter from the station, 18 trains to and from Boston a day. Sudbury is a quaint old historic town containing the well-known Wayside Inn, immortalized by Longfellow. There are fine drives and beautiful scenery. Accommodates 10. Terms $5 to $8 a week.

The South Shore

The South Shore of Massachusetts extends from the end of Nantasket beach at Hull to Plymouth and comprising as it does the territory first settled in New England by the pilgrims at Plymouth and Duxbury has been well known and extolled by all visitors since the first Thanksgiving day was celebrated. With the exception of a few miles at and near to the entrance of Boston Harbor the shore is an almost unbroken line of sand, offering the finest and safest facilities for bathing known on our entire coast line. The water is always warm and with no undertow.

"AT COHASSET"

Nantasket is too well known to require description. It suffices to say that within ten miles of Boston this narrow arm between ocean and bay offers an opportunity for a summer's stay, always cool and always popular with those who require more or less "action" during their summer. At Hull there is a large yacht club and the anchorage is a famous rendezvous for boats from all parts of the coast.

Continuing down the coast Cohasset is the one place on the South Shore where rocks abound and one fond of surf can be sure of having their fill during an easterly storm. Scituate has a sea coast of about eight miles, all sand, and the ocean frontage has been almost entirely covered by beautiful cottages and high class hotels. It is a paradise for bathers.

Marshfield, the next township, was the home of Daniel Webster and is a quiet sea coast farming town, where opportunities for quiet and restful summering are unequalled. The Winslow House built in 1696 is still standing together with the ancient Winslow burial ground. Next to Marshfield is Duxbury, a delightful place in which to spend a summer. It has every advantage a favorite summer resort can have; accessibility, beautiful drives, the finest of sea bathing, safe boating and fishing and in addition to these, has historical charms enough to interest a person fond of the study, for many summers. The home of Miles Standish, Elder Brewster, John Alden and other signers of the original compact in the cabin of the Mayflower, it is rich in Pilgrim lore, and it is not strange that it has become the summer home of a number of well known people.

Plymouth is as well known to the average American as New York and with frequent trains furnished by the New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R., can be reached in a few minutes from any of these places on the South Shore, or by the stanch steamers of the Plymouth S. Co., from Boston.

North Scituate. 24 miles from Boston. Excursion Rate 95 cents. The Cliff. Open from June 20th to Sept. 20th. Largest and most popular Hotel on the South Shore. Situated on a bluff facing the ocean. Modern house, electric lights and bells, bath rooms, cuisine unsurpassed. Fishing, boating and bathing. Casino, golf links and tennis court. Accommodations for 200. Rates $10 to $15 per week. See advertisement on page 72.

North Scituate, Mass. The Mitchell House. The house is pleasantly situated on a green lawn running to the ocean, which is only a stone's throw from the house, commanding a full view of the celebrated Minot's Light House, as well as all the vessels departing from and entering Boston Harbor. It is a quiet and restful place, accommodating about 60 guests. Good surf bathing, and first class table. Eleven trains daily, between Boston and North Scituate, and barges connect with each train. Terms $8 to $14 a week.

North Scituate, Mass. Sea View House. J. K. Gannett, Prop. Post office, Minot. The Hotel located on the bathing beach commands magnificent ocean views. The rooms are very comfortable, and the house is fitted with every modern convenience. It is the desire of the proprietor that all guests shall be made to feel at home. Accommodations for 40. Rates from $8 to $12 per week, according to location of room.

North Scituate, Mass. Post office, Minot. The Minot. C. H. Pool, Prop. One of the pleasantest locations on the beach. From veranda of the Hotel, Minot's Light is almost directly opposite, and the surf is within fifty feet. The Hotel has been almost entirely refitted this season, is under new management, and every effort will be made to satisfy guests. Accommodations for 40. Terms $8 to $12 a week.

South Duxbury. 39 miles from Boston. Excursion rate $1.50. The Mudjekeewis. Mrs. J. F. Banister, Prop. The house is charmingly situated near the shore. Perfect sanitary arrangements, and excellent beds. Fine bathing, boating and fishing. Three minutes' walk to bathing beach: 10 minutes to station, post office and telephone. 100 feet of broad piazza and pine grove close by. From the piazza, Clark's Island lies in view where the first Sunday of the Pilgrims was spent before landing at Plymouth, and within sight of the Hotel are the original farms of Miles Standish, Elder Brewster and John Alden. See advertisement on page 72.

Duxbury, Mass. 37 miles from Boston. Excursion rate $1.50. Old-fashioned country house, near water, with good bathing. 9 acres of land. Accommodations for 14. Prices from $6 to $12 per week. The house is on high ground with a beautiful view of the Bay and country about. Good roads and golf links near by. 8 trains a day from Boston. Address, Emily W. Sears, Duxbury, Mass.

Tyngsboro, Mass. 30 miles from Boston. Excursion rate $1.40. Beautiful little town on the Merrimack River.

Tyng Hall. Mrs. F. B. Shipley. A charming old colonial house on the banks of the river. Accommodates 15 to 20. Prices $4 to $8 per week.

Sharon, Mass.

The Lakewood of Massachusetts.

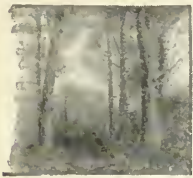

Sharon is 17 miles from Boston and 25 from Providence. On the main line of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. There are numerous trains from both cities every day, and the running time from Boston is from 27 minutes for the express trains to 40 minutes for the slower. It is the most elevated town in Eastern Massachusetts, and is from 200 to 530 feet above the sea level. The soil is gravelly and there is a great deal of pine wood growing in the town. All of these things with perfect drainage make the air of Sharon pure and very healthful. The town is not only famous for its beauty but also for the fine springs existing there, the water of which by chemical analysis compares more than favorably with that of the justly famous Poland Springs. The scenery, walks and drives of Sharon are unsurpassed. There are hard roads all about, and one fond of romantic surroundings will find nothing to equal the vicinity of Sharon in Eastern Massachusetts. The well known Blue Hills are within easy driving distance and the beautiful Massapoag Lake lies in the town itself. In a social way, Sharon has always been very fortunate. Nice people seem to favor the place and it has always drawn the better class of society.

Massapoag Lake Hotel. Situated among the pines, directly on the shores of this beautiful lake, equipped with every modern convenience. Golf, tennis, croquet and bowling. Music morning and evening. Absolutely pure and health-giving spring water. Terms from $12.50 to $20 a week. See advertisement on page 73.

Ston Holm. A magnificent private estate on high land, surrounded by 20 acres of beautifully kept grounds. The rooms are large and airy, a few en suite, and contain hot and cold Sharon Spring water. The table is supplied from a garden belonging to the house, and milk and cream from our own dairy. Prices from $15 to $30 a week.

The Sharon.

Sharon, Mass.

Delightfully located, only 4 minutes walk from the station, and near the churches, post office and public library. The house sets high, has broad piazza, and the sanitary arrangements are perfect. The table and attendance are first class in every respect. There are several acres of grounds, beautifully laid out, comprising lawns, a pine grove, and fruit, flower and vegetable garden. Accommodations for 50. Rates from $8 to $15 a week.

The Caledonia. Mrs. Robert Hamilton. A new house with bath, about 10 minutes walk from the station. The house is nicely furnished, with large comfortable rooms. A fine pine grove is near by and Massapoag Lake with good fishing and boating is within a short distance. The table will be supplied with all home comforts. Accommodates 15 and rates are from $5 to $8 a week.

Winthrop, Mass. 6 miles from Boston. Fare 5 cents. This beautiful sea-shore resort has always been very popular both on account of its natural charms and its accessibility to Boston. Mont Vernon—Amherst—Milford

New Hampshire

HOTEL PONEMAH.

These three places all close together have a greater diversity of scenery and more pleasant drives than any other New Hampshire towns within easy reaching distance of Boston. Mont Vernon is known as the Bethlehem of Southern New Hampshire, and is situated directly on the top of a hill 1,100 feet above sea level, and standing as it does alone, commands a sweep of the entire circle of the horizon within a radius of from 30 to 60 miles. The air is much drier than on the plains below and cool nights are the almost invariable rule. Amherst is located on a plateau at the foot of Mt. Vernon hill, and is one of the prettiest villages in New Hampshire. It abounds in large trees with shady roads and by-paths, and being three miles from the railroad, is a charmingly restful place. Milford, about three miles from both Amherst and Mt. Vernon, contains the well known Ponemah Springs, and is a very pretty, bustling, New Hampshire village on the Keene branch of the Boston and Maine Railroad. If one is looking for comfort, rest and old fashioned hospitality, any place mentioned below is recommended.

Mont Vernon, N. H. The Grand. Geo. E. Bates, Prop. The Hotel is located on the crown of Prospect Hill, the highest point of land in this section. From the tower or any of the rooms, there is a view extending from 30 to 60 miles. In the tower is a very powerful telescope. Hotel is furnished with every modern convenience, with every facility for the enjoyment of guests. Golf, tennis, croquet, bowling, billiards and pool. Rates $12 to $20 per week. Open from June to November. See advertisement on page 63.

Mont Vernon, N. H.
The Bellevue.

Geo. E. Boutell,
Prop.

Lake Winnepesaukee

This Lake which for attractiveness, beauty, grandeur of surroundings, and purity of water cannot be surpassed, lies about 100 miles north of Boston. It is 25 miles long and 472 feet above the level of the sea. There are scattered over its surface, nearly 300 large and small islands. Alton Bay, Wolfeboro, Centre Harbor and The Weirs are the four principal summer resorts on the shores of the lake, and they are all equally beautiful, all command exquisite views, and are equally accessible from Boston. The mountain scenery about Lake Winnepesaukee is superb, and from the deck of the steamer running from Weirs to Centre Harbor and making various local stops on the way, one has magnificent views of the White Mountains, Mt. Chocorua, Passaconaway, Moosilauke and Mt. Kearsarge.

The fishing in the Lake is remarkable for a place so near Boston, and every year a great many trout weighing from 5 to 8 or 9 pounds are taken from the waters, and about Weirs and Meredith there are quantities of brooks full of brook trout. Smith Pond, a water sheet having an area of 5,120 acres, and lying about a mile from the east shore of Winnepesaukee, has the reputation of being the best black bass pond in New England.

The New Hotel Weirs, Weirs. Dr. J. A. Greene, Prop. The Hotel stands on a lofty elevation commanding a magnificent view of the Lake. Along the edge of the Lake are picturesque walks and groves around the Hotel, giving an opportunity for restful and secluded strolls. Dublin—Peterboro—Hancock—Jaffrey

These four townships, all grouped within the shadow of gray old Monadnock, have earned in the last few decades the reputation well deserved of being among the most desirable in every sense, for inland summering. Dublin is fast becoming a second Lenox and is the summer home of such people as Col. T. W. Higginson, Robert Treat Paine, Philip H. Sears and other well known men from New York and the west, and with its beautiful estates and finely appointed hotels, bids fair in a few years to outstrip its older rival. The village is fifteen hundred feet above the sea level with pure bracing air, and looking across the Lake, Monadnock with its hoary head towers over all.

Peterboro is a second Dublin; in fact all of these towns have virtually the same characteristics; beautiful drives, pure and bracing air, numerous lakes and streams and the nights are always cool. They are all about two hours and one-half from Boston, with trains at frequent intervals, and are recommended with emphasis to those wishing quiet, with superior accommodations and mountain air.

Dublin. The Leffingwell, and the Leffingwell Inn, both under the same management. The first is open only from June 15th to October 1st, and is one of the most attractive and well kept summer hotels in New Hampshire. It has earned a well deserved reputation with the better class of tourists for hospitality and courteous treatment. The Inn is open throughout the year, and parties wishing to stay through October, the pleasantest month of the year in Dublin, can rest assured that they will be well taken care of. See advertisement on page opposite.

Dublin. Brookside Farm House. C. F. Knight. A very pleasant farm with plenty of shade in a very desirable location and with airy rooms. The table will be provided with all farm products in their season, and there is a brook with good trout fishing close at hand. Accommodates 6. Rates are from $5 to $8 a week.

Peterboro.
Maplegrove Farm.

Maine

York, Me. One of the best known of all Maine resorts and one of the most beautiful beaches on the Maine coast. Every year finds more and more people taking advantage of the attractions offered at this place, and if, as it is so often stated, a "pleased customer is the best advertisement" then York beach ought to be and is well advertised.

Sea Cottage. E. E. E. Mitchell, Prop. A large and newly refitted Hotel, with a fine wide veranda, electric lights throughout, magnificently fitted with beach stone fire places in the parlor, and situated about midway on Long Beach,

SEA COTTAGE.

York, Me., commanding one of the finest views of the Coast. It is reached by the York Harbor & Beach R. R., connecting at Portsmouth with the B. & M. R. R. Electric cars from Portsmouth are close at hand. Accommodations for 125. Rates $7 to $14 per week.

The Atlantic. W. H. Goodwin, Prop. Centrally located in this favorite summer resort and within three minutes' walk of railroad station. Around the house are two broad verandas commanding from the front a view of the ocean and the fine surf bathing beach 300 feet away, while from the other side an inland view of green fields, pasture and woodlands please the eye. The house is in good sanitary condition and supplied with the best aqueduct water from the hills three miles from the beach. The parlor, office and spacious dining room are light and cheerful.

The sleeping rooms are of good size and well ventilated, and the beds are mostly provided with spring and hair mattresses. The table will be supplied daily with abundant sea food, fresh vegetables and with milk from the neighboring farms. Accommodations for 100. Rates $8 to $15 per week.

Narragansett Pier

Once the government seat of the Indians and at present one of the most fashionable summer resorts in America, situated on the southwestern border of Narragansett Bay, diagonally opposite Newport, and commanding from its shores an unlimited and uninterrupted view of the broad Atlantic. It is impossible without filling this book to describe the magnificent scenery about the Pier. It is enough to say that for one who loves the ocean, and desires at the same time, all comforts and luxuries that modern civilization can supply, will carry away from the Pier a remembrance of the place that will give him much pleasure in future years.

The bathing beach at the Pier is unexcelled by any on the Atlantic, and the entire absence of undertow makes it absolutely safe.

The Narragansett Casino at the Pier equals in reputation that at Newport, and offers a very beautiful and charming attraction to the visitor.

The Pier is reached by steam and rail; by the sound steamboats of the Stonington Line, and by the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., to Kingston, R. I. There is also a connection between Newport and the Pier by ferry direct, and also trolley line to Wickford, R. I., where connection is made with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R.

The Rockingham Hotel. J. G. Burns & Son, Props. Is the largest, most elegantly appointed and best located Hotel at the Pier. It is situated directly on the bathing beach opposite the famous Casino, and commands from its ample piazzas a view of the variable diversions which have made Narragansett Pier the most delightful and unequalled summer resort on the continent. The Hotel is lighted throughout by electricity and supplied with new elevators, cafe, billiard room, and palm garden. There is a long distance telephone and telegraph in the building. The rooms are furnished with enamelled and brass beds, and rugs over hard wood floors. Golf, tennis, polo, yachting and bathing are among a few of the outside attractions. Accommodations for 500. Transient rates $4 to $6 a day. $20 to $50 by the week.

The Massasoit. J. Babcock, Superintendent. Finely located, standing on the highest ground overlooking the shore. Has been recently enlarged and much improved. Within five minutes to the depot, two to the bathing beach, and a few rods from the Casino. Lighted throughout by electricity, with hot and cold water baths; drainage and sanitary arrangements of the best; large comfortable rooms. The table is provided with the best the market affords. Accommodations for 150. Rates $18 to $30 per week.

The Atwood. A. P. Crowley, Prop. This house is situated directly on the ocean front, and from its piazza is obtained one of the most extensive views of the Atlantic ocean to be found anywhere. Its central location is very desirable and it is only a short distance from the bathing beach and the Casino. The grounds about the Hotel afford ample room for out-of-door enjoyment and the house is supplied with pure water, passenger elevator, gas and electric lights. Special rates for June and September, also to families and large parties, and the rates are very reasonable. Accommodations for 150.

Westerly, R. I. Stillman House. D. R. Stillman, Proprietor. House situated at Noyes' Beach, near Westerly, R. I., and 6 miles east of Watch Hill. On high ground 200 yards from the ocean. Surf and still water bathing, beach unsurpassed in New England, perfectly safe, no undertow. Good roads for bicycling and riding, fine boating and fishing. Excellent golf links near at hand. Terms $10 to $15 a week, special rates by season and for July and September. Two mails daily. References and no Hebrews.

Cottages to Rent.

If in this list you find anything attractive to you, on request and receipt of postage, we shall be only too glad, if it is impossible for you to call at our office, to send you a detailed description, and where photo is marked, a photograph as well, to be returned to us immediately after examination. Most of the cottages are furnished, with the exception of linen and silverware, and in case many of them are not let for the season, they can be secured for either two or four weeks, by those who wish to spend their vacations in this way, instead of going to a hotel or farmhouse. Inquiries are welcomed, and we shall be only too glad to help you in any way possible in the selection of a summer cottage.

IS 5½ hours' ride out of Boston on the main line of the Boston & Maine. Four trains in the twenty-four hours — favorite ones 9 A. M., 1 P. M. — through cars; similar and as many return trains. Also through trains from New York via Springfield. This charming colonial house has large airy rooms, with a satisfactory outlook from all windows; especially picturesque from front looking to the west across the Connecticut to the Green Mountain Range just beyond it; varied and unusually attractive views looking north to other mountains and hills. Post-office, good livery stable, etc., near; hills, mountains, lakes of quick and easy access; delightful drives; many attractions. Owner will this season receive a few people appreciating such situation, with refined and homelike surroundings throughout.
